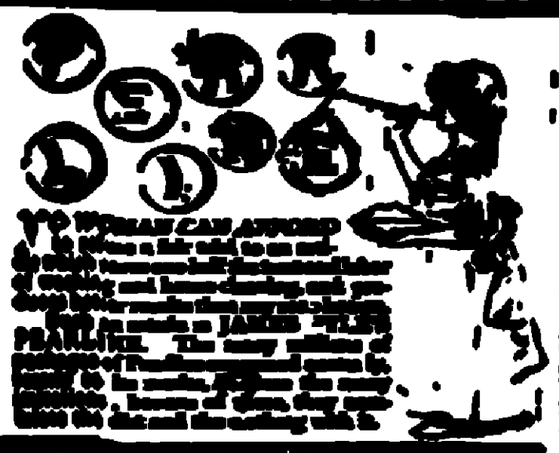
BANGOR DAILY WHIG AND COURIER.

BY BOUTELLE & BURR. PUBLISHERS. BANGOR, ME., FRIDAY MORNING, AUGUST 14, 1868. VOLUME L7.—NUMBER 188.



C. W. SULLIVAN

OLYMPIC HATS,

CASSIMERE HATS,

SILK HATS,

Soft Hats, Silk Hats, Tennis Caps, Ball Caps, and Flannel Goods,

IN ALL THE LATEST NOVELTIES.

Hammocks, Umbrellas and Canes,

IN GREAT VARIETY.

Don't fail to examine my Stock of Goods, which is the FINEST IN THE STATE.

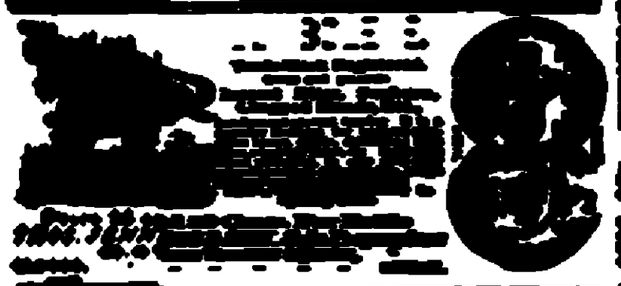
C. W. SULLIVAN,

BANGOR BLOCK, . . . BANGOR, ME.

IF YOU WANT

Healthful Health and Safety,

the Strictest Moral Proposition. It is not only free from anything injurious, but is positively beneficial to health. It contains in the form the life-giving phosphates lost in baking, which are required by the system. No other yeast does this.



WARREN'S COUGH BALSAM.

CALDWELL, SWEET & CO.

NEW FALL STYLI

HATS

Young Men's Boys' and Children's

AND CAPS.

SOFT AND STIFF HATS,

Hammocks Cards.

Hammocks and Hammocks

BIRDS' EYE.

Best Brands of Cigars

Asbestos Paints

Don't Get Stuck!

CHAS. A. STEVENS.

Short Cuts.

The Germans call Lima the "Heavergrube" city, or the pickle season

It is predicted that Montana will produce gold, silver and copper this year to the value of $40,000,000

Horace Beecher Stowe continues to receive $1,500 a year from royalties on Uncle Tom's Cabin

Two miniature railways are to be laid down at Brighton for the pleasure and conveyance of the Emperor

One of Chicago's millionaires, Mr. Ingalls, has $18,000 and a rag upon which the city insists that he owes fifty cents more.

Nervous Prostration,

Ayer's Sarsaparilla,

METAL SKYLIGHTS

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

Whig and Courier.

SOUTELLE & BUSH, PROPRIETORS.
L. A. BOUTELLE, EDITOR.

All business letters should be addressed to Bunnell & Bush, and communications intended for publication should be addressed "Editor of Whig and Courier."

TUESDAY, AUGUST 14, 1888.

REPUBLICAN NOMINATIONS.

For President:
BENJAMIN HARRISON, OF INDIANA.

For Vice-President:
LEVI P. MORTON,
OF NEW YORK.

For Governor:
EDWIN C. BURLEIGH, OF BANGOR.

FOR PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS
For Electors at Large,
[illegible]

County Nominations.

[illegible]

APPOINTMENTS.
Hon W. P. Frye, of Lewiston,
[illegible]

Hon S. A. Bowerle,
[illegible]

Something for the Workingmen to Remember.

It would be hardly possible to put the free trade case more clearly or more strongly. The arguments which President Cleveland uses are those which Mr. Colden used to employ forty-five years ago, and which any English free trader would employ now. They are purely free trade arguments, and as such we are very glad to see Mr. Cleveland using them, though sorry for the popular entertainment which readers of dangerous to give them their rightful name.—Louisville Times

He discusses the principles at issue in the struggle and shows that he is a free trade enthusiast in everything but name. The conclusion is an important one for American party purposes. The President feels compelled to characterize the attempt to brand him a free trader as a deception of the common. For all that, the electoral conflict now in progress is a conflict between free trade and protection, and nothing less.—Louisville Times

The only turn England can use Celts when they emigrate to America and vote for free trade.—London Times

Athenian Lawmakers.

The lawmakers of the State of Texas are not at all in their opposition to free trade measures. Governor [illegible] of Texas, in view of a strong opposition from farmers, Kentucky, West Virginia and all the Texas towns in the planting of lumber on the free list. The duty has been collected by the Governor of 2 months upon twenty-five [illegible] thousand dollars of [illegible] by [illegible] Governor [illegible] of the State [illegible] THE PEOPLE. [illegible] The Texas condition fundamens purchases [illegible] and some of a low cost than do our lumbermen and he PAYS LESS FOR LABOR.—Georgetown (Connecticut), February, 1888

Mr. Blaine on the Campaign.

Mr Blaine left New York yesterday and will be given a grand reception on his arrival home at Augusta, this evening. Several stops were made in Connecticut and in each instance the train was surrounded by thousands eager to welcome the great Republican leader who has returned to labor for the election of Harrison and Morton, and for the triumph of the American policy of protection as against the British free trade policy represented in the candidacy of Grover Cleveland. Mr Blaine made several short but vigorous speeches, in which he urged upon the voters of Connecticut the importance of being "up and doing" in order that the electoral votes of that industrial State be counted for the party of protection. On the question of the arrival in New York Mr. Blaine endorsed a whole volume of truth in the sentences, as follows:

I am here that the votes of the American people cannot be counted against the protection of American industry. [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

TUESDAY, AUGUST 18, 1884.

BY TELEGRAPH.

MAINE NEWS.

THE WOULLETTEVOYE AFFAIR.

For the Murder of John Lahey.

[illegible] Aug 13 Jerry and Michael [illegible] were arraigned before Judge [illegible] this morning for the murder of [illegible] Lahey. Michael pleaded not guilty. [illegible] I did it myself and no one else had a hand in it." On counsel for Jerry [illegible] changed his plea to that of guilty. The examination in the case of the other prisoners is before [illegible]

ANOTHER DROWNING ACCIDENT.

A Guest at Squirrel Island Loses his Life.

Heroic Endeavors of his Companion to Rescue Him.

[illegible] Aug 13. Frank A. Upham [illegible] under 21 years, a guest at the Chase [illegible] Squirrel Island, was drowned [illegible] afternoon off Pumpkin Island [illegible] of the accident, which [illegible] as follows:

[illegible] Thatcher, of Boston, and Frank [illegible] of New Jersey, intimate friends [illegible] who were spending their va[illegible] Squirrel Island, left there [illegible] for a pleasure sailing cruise [illegible] Islands, with his [illegible]

[illegible] came from Pumpkin Is[illegible] attempted to relieve the heat of [illegible] are bathed by throwing a large [illegible] and. The boat was capsized [illegible] in some manner into the water [illegible] about 2 o'clock. Thatcher [illegible] been a summer but the other [illegible] might make him absolutely [illegible] With Thatcher's assistance he [illegible] the bottom of the upset [illegible] and swam toward [illegible] assistance. [illegible] to members of Pumpkin Island [illegible] the accident have no doubt prevented a drowning.

Upham was not [illegible] when [illegible] through the evergreen brush [illegible] the rocks, but came to the surface [illegible] and sank. When at last, after [illegible] an hour, he got the body [illegible] to the shore, he found that life was [illegible]

OUR BAR HARBOR MELANGE.

The Ruins of the Drowned Nun Found.

Serious Devastation by the Gale the previous [illegible]

[illegible] Aug. 13. Rain, mist and [illegible] are dominating wraps and the [illegible] make their appearance. [illegible] across the ghosts caused by the [illegible] arrivals. Festive days have not [illegible] since the visitors, but as yet [illegible] that the ladies will ever be tired [illegible] this variety grants no dead [illegible] and of the tea or coffee drowned [illegible] the past few years by our [illegible] received. The strong waters [illegible] others and escape death un[illegible] the Atlantic like A. W. Von [illegible] the escapades of Miss Hittner, to [illegible] from grief. She is reported as [illegible] comfortable, as she knew nothing [illegible] requested others this. Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] are expected soon. Mr. Gould's [illegible] are received with grief [illegible] Mary Hittner was twice the [illegible] bright, dark eyes and hair, to [illegible] admired brunette. Her features were [illegible] pleasing and she was a favorite with [illegible] who knew her. She was about [illegible] years old.

[illegible] Compared by the Storm.

[illegible] who have been dragging the [illegible] the vicinity hoping to find the [illegible] of Miss Hittner and Mr. Reed were [illegible] about four o'clock by a strong [illegible] and which set in and kept them in [illegible] could be seen quite a gale. The [illegible] gale swooped down on the bay [illegible] the anchor of Miss Hittner's cat [illegible] expected to arrive from the Clark [illegible] Island Commissioner Nathan Peters [illegible] tonight.

The Navy Department.

[illegible] are the latest news and rumors [illegible] from the friends of the Navy. [illegible] gone so quite freely and there [illegible] of new orders of duty as well [illegible] promoted.

Despite the rain of yesterday there was [illegible] the courage to attend Queen Dixon's [illegible] rewarded by a pretty day. Mount Desert Rock being plainly visible. The carriage road to the summit like a [illegible] dark coat and the pedestrians will need [illegible] rain harvest. A party of visitors from the Waldron are awaiting a clear day to [illegible] up and ready at the summit.

The hop at the West End Saturday night [illegible] a very brilliant affair and many of the [illegible] were quite stunning. Miss Charlotte [illegible], of Boston, a guest at the West End, here every the palm. The modest [illegible] was a lovely shade of pink silk with [illegible] almost invisible pleat puffing and [illegible]

NEWSPAPERARCHIVE®

[illegible] Aug. 13. Frank A. Upham [illegible] under Mass., a guest at the Chase [illegible] Squirrel Island, was drowned [illegible] afternoon off Pumpkin Island [illegible] of the accident, which [illegible] as follows:

[illegible] Thatcher, of Boston, and Frank [illegible] of New Jersey, intimate friends [illegible] who were spending their va[illegible] Squirrel Island, left there [illegible] for a pleasure sailing cruise [illegible] Islands, with his [illegible]

[illegible] came from Pumpkin Is[illegible] attempted to relieve the heat of [illegible] are bathed by throwing a large [illegible] and. The boat was capsized [illegible] in some manner into the water [illegible] about 2 o'clock. Thatcher [illegible] been a summer but the other [illegible] might make him absolutely [illegible] With Thatcher's assistance he [illegible] the bottom of the upset [illegible] and swam toward [illegible] assistance. [illegible] to members of Pumpkin Island [illegible] the accident have no doubt prevented a drowning.

Upham was not [illegible] when [illegible] through the evergreen brush [illegible] the rocks, but came to the surface [illegible] and sank. When at last, after [illegible] an hour, he got the body [illegible] to the shore, he found that life was [illegible]

[illegible] the Bermuda Islands, with his [illegible] on, the boat having broken [illegible] separated, therefore remained till [illegible] the boat running when he swam [illegible] stand for assistance. Hours [illegible] and the body was carried to [illegible] meeting here about o'clock [illegible] afternoon. Undertaker Carlisle [illegible] of the occasion, which were [illegible] of the morning at Bar Harbor [illegible] additional evidences of [illegible] in the endeavors to save his [illegible] the terrible sea which was [illegible]

COMING HOME.

Mr. Blaine Reaches Boston.

Enthusiastic Greeting All Along the Route.

New York, Aug. 13. Hon. James G. Blaine started on the homeward trip by the evening express over the New York, New Haven and Hartford road, which reaches the Grand Central depot promptly on time. Mr. Blaine and party drove from the Fifth Avenue Hotel, reaching the depot ten minutes ahead of time. A large crowd had congregated on the sidewalk opposite the entrance to the depot and when Mr. Blaine stepped from his carriage a loud shout went up from the throng. Passage was made through the mass of people, and, on reaching the train, Mr. Blaine smilingly passed into the depot.

The carriage car designed to carry the party was the observation car, used by the President of the road. As Mr. Blaine ascended to the platform of persons standing in the elevated railroad station, Grand and Lebounne avenues greeted the occupant of the structure met his gaze. As he bowed to the assemblage cheering him at Blaine united his hat in recognition of the ovation. During the few minutes that in the depot Mr. Blaine had an informal reception. The depot yard was filled with people of note.

A Shout of Praise

As the train moved out, which event was announced by the loud explosion of a torpedo which had been placed on the track to salute the departing party, cheer after cheer was given by the assembled throng, which numbered several thousands, and as the train moved off the depot the men waved their hats while the ladies present waved their handkerchiefs and parasols vociferously. Mr. Blaine returned the salutes by waving his hat in his hand and bowing again and again as he stood alone. The train was far out of the depot when Mr. Blaine took the platform and entered the car.

Many Greetings at Stamford.

Stamford, Conn., Aug. 13. When the train reached Stamford at 11.35, it was greeted with cheers from the thousands of men, women and children gathered there in response to the invitation of business men circulated by the citizens of Stamford last night. The train stopped about ten minutes in the depot, and Mr. Blaine was called out by the crowd and responded in a few words. Mr. Blaine was then introduced to the committee and citizens who had come to the depot to welcome him.

Reception at New Haven.

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 13. At Bridgeport, where the train arrived at 12.15, a large crowd had gathered to welcome Mr. Blaine. Mr. Blaine was escorted to the platform by a committee of citizens, and was greeted with cheers. Mr. Blaine was then introduced to the assembled crowd by Mayor Lyon, and made a few remarks, in which he said that he was glad to see so many of his old friends present, and that he was glad to be back in Connecticut. He thanked them for the kind reception they had given him, and said that he was glad to see so many present. He then bowed his acknowledgments and retired to the car, amid cheers.

Enthusiasm at Meriden.

Meriden, Conn., Aug. 13. At Meriden the train was greeted with cheers from the thousands of men, women and children gathered there in response to the invitation of business men circulated by the citizens of Meriden last night. The train stopped about ten minutes in the depot, and Mr. Blaine was called out by the crowd and responded in a few words. Mr. Blaine was then introduced to the committee and citizens who had come to the depot to welcome him.

Reception at Hartford.

Hartford, Conn., Aug. 13. At Hartford the train was greeted by a large crowd of people, who had gathered at the depot to welcome Mr. Blaine. Mr. Blaine was escorted to the platform by a committee of citizens, and was greeted with cheers. Mr. Blaine was then introduced to the assembled crowd by Mayor Lyon, and made a few remarks, in which he said that he was glad to see so many of his old friends present, and that he was glad to be back in Connecticut. He thanked them for the kind reception they had given him, and said that he was glad to see so many present. He then bowed his acknowledgments and retired to the car, amid cheers.

Enthusiastic Greeting All Along the Route.

New Haven, Aug. 13. Hon. James G. Blaine started on the homeward trip by the evening express over the New York, New Haven and Hartford road, which reaches the Grand Central depot promptly on time. Mr. Blaine and party drove from the Fifth Avenue Hotel, reaching the depot ten minutes ahead of time. A large crowd had congregated on the sidewalk opposite the entrance to the depot and when Mr. Blaine stepped from his carriage a loud shout went up from the throng. Passage was made through the mass of people, and, on reaching the train, Mr. Blaine smilingly passed into the depot.

The carriage car designed to carry the party was the observation car, used by the President of the road. As Mr. Blaine ascended to the platform of persons standing in the elevated railroad station, Grand and Lebounne avenues greeted the occupant of the structure met his gaze. As he bowed to the assemblage cheering him at Blaine united his hat in recognition of the ovation. During the few minutes that in the depot Mr. Blaine had an informal reception. The depot yard was filled with people of note.

A Shout of Praise

As the train moved out, which event was announced by the loud explosion of a torpedo which had been placed on the track to salute the departing party, cheer after cheer was given by the assembled throng, which numbered several thousands, and as the train moved off the depot the men waved their hats while the ladies present waved their handkerchiefs and parasols vociferously. Mr. Blaine returned the salutes by waving his hat in his hand and bowing again and again as he stood alone. The train was far out of the depot when Mr. Blaine took the platform and entered the car.

Many Greetings at Stamford.

Stamford, Conn., Aug. 13. When the train reached Stamford at 11.35, it was greeted with cheers from the thousands of men, women and children gathered there in response to the invitation of business men circulated by the citizens of Stamford last night. The train stopped about ten minutes in the depot, and Mr. Blaine was called out by the crowd and responded in a few words. Mr. Blaine was then introduced to the committee and citizens who had come to the depot to welcome him.

Reception at New Haven.

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 13. At New Haven the train was greeted by a large crowd of people, who had gathered at the depot to welcome Mr. Blaine. Mr. Blaine was escorted to the platform by a committee of citizens, and was greeted with cheers. Mr. Blaine was then introduced to the assembled crowd by Mayor Lyon, and made a few remarks, in which he said that he was glad to see so many of his old friends present, and that he was glad to be back in Connecticut. He thanked them for the kind reception they had given him, and said that he was glad to see so many present. He then bowed his acknowledgments and retired to the car, amid cheers.

Enthusiastic Greeting All Along the Route.

New Haven, Aug. 13. Hon. James G. Blaine started on the homeward trip by the evening express over the New York, New Haven and Hartford road, which reaches the Grand Central depot promptly on time. Mr. Blaine and party drove from the Fifth Avenue Hotel, reaching the depot ten minutes ahead of time. A large crowd had congregated on the sidewalk opposite the entrance to the depot and when Mr. Blaine stepped from his carriage a loud shout went up from the throng. Passage was made through the mass of people, and, on reaching the train, Mr. Blaine smilingly passed into the depot.

The carriage car designed to carry the party was the observation car, used by the President of the road. As Mr. Blaine ascended to the platform of persons standing in the elevated railroad station, Grand and Lebounne avenues greeted the occupant of the structure met his gaze. As he bowed to the assemblage cheering him at Blaine united his hat in recognition of the ovation. During the few minutes that in the depot Mr. Blaine had an informal reception. The depot yard was filled with people of note.

A Shout of Praise

As the train moved out, which event was announced by the loud explosion of a torpedo which had been placed on the track to salute the departing party, cheer after cheer was given by the assembled throng, which numbered several thousands, and as the train moved off the depot the men waved their hats while the ladies present waved their handkerchiefs and parasols vociferously. Mr. Blaine returned the salutes by waving his hat in his hand and bowing again and again as he stood alone. The train was far out of the depot when Mr. Blaine took the platform and entered the car.

Many Greetings at Stamford.

Stamford, Conn., Aug. 13. When the train reached Stamford at 11.35, it was greeted with cheers from the thousands of men, women and children gathered there in response to the invitation of business men circulated by the citizens of Stamford last night. The train stopped about ten minutes in the depot, and Mr. Blaine was called out by the crowd and responded in a few words. Mr. Blaine was then introduced to the committee and citizens who had come to the depot to welcome him.

Reception at New Haven.

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 13. At New Haven the train was greeted by a large crowd of people, who had gathered at the depot to welcome Mr. Blaine. Mr. Blaine was escorted to the platform by a committee of citizens, and was greeted with cheers. Mr. Blaine was then introduced to the assembled crowd by Mayor Lyon, and made a few remarks, in which he said that he was glad to see so many of his old friends present, and that he was glad to be back in Connecticut. He thanked them for the kind reception they had given him, and said that he was glad to see so many present. He then bowed his acknowledgments and retired to the car, amid cheers.

THE STATE MUSTER.

All the Companies on the Ground.

AUGUSTA, Aug. 13. The State muster began here to-day. All the seventeen companies of the State militia are on the ground. The attendance was fair, but not as large as would have been had the weather been fair. Guard duty began to-night. The troops are elated in spite of the weather. Mike practice and regimental drill begin to-morrow if the weather permits.

COMING HOME.

Mr. Blaine Reaches Boston.

Enthusiastic Greeting All Along the Route.

New York, Aug. 13. Hon. James G. Blaine started on the homeward trip by the evening express over the New York, New Haven and Hartford road, which reaches the Grand Central depot promptly on time. Mr. Blaine and party drove from the Fifth Avenue Hotel, reaching the depot ten minutes ahead of time. A large crowd had congregated on the sidewalk opposite the entrance to the depot and when Mr. Blaine stepped from his carriage a loud shout went up from the throng. Passage was made through the mass of people, and, on reaching the train, Mr. Blaine smilingly passed into the depot.

The carriage car designed to carry the party was the observation car, used by the President of the road. As Mr. Blaine ascended to the platform of persons standing in the elevated railroad station, Grand and Lebounne avenues greeted the occupant of the structure met his gaze. As he bowed to the assemblage cheering him at Blaine united his hat in recognition of the ovation. During the few minutes that in the depot Mr. Blaine had an informal reception. The depot yard was filled with people of note.

A Shout of Praise

As the train moved out, which event was announced by the loud explosion of a torpedo which had been placed on the track to salute the departing party, cheer after cheer was given by the assembled throng, which numbered several thousands, and as the train moved off the depot the men waved their hats while the ladies present waved their handkerchiefs and parasols vociferously. Mr. Blaine returned the salutes by waving his hat in his hand and bowing again and again as he stood alone. The train was far out of the depot when Mr. Blaine took the platform and entered the car.

Many Greetings at Stamford.

Stamford, Conn., Aug. 13. When the train reached Stamford at 11.35, it was greeted with cheers from the thousands of men, women and children gathered there in response to the invitation of business men circulated by the citizens of Stamford last night. The train stopped about ten minutes in the depot, and Mr. Blaine was called out by the crowd and responded in a few words. Mr. Blaine was then introduced to the committee and citizens who had come to the depot to welcome him.

Reception at New Haven.

New Haven, Conn., Aug. 13. At New Haven the train was greeted by a large crowd of people, who had gathered at the depot to welcome Mr. Blaine. Mr. Blaine was escorted to the platform by a committee of citizens, and was greeted with cheers. Mr. Blaine was then introduced to the assembled crowd by Mayor Lyon, and made a few remarks, in which he said that he was glad to see so many of his old friends present, and that he was glad to be back in Connecticut. He thanked them for the kind reception they had given him, and said that he was glad to see so many present. He then bowed his acknowledgments and retired to the car, amid cheers.

Enthusiastic Greeting All Along the Route.

New Haven

Real Estate.

Wanted, Lost, Found, For Sale, Etc.

Personal.

Financial.

Business Notices.

Dressmaking.

Boarding.

Situations Wanted.

Help Wanted.

To Let.

For Sale.

Miscellaneous.

Steamboats and Excursions.

Railroads.

Lectures and Meetings.

Auction Sales.

Special Notices.

Dividend Notices.

Copartnership Notices.

Bankers and Brokers.

Insurance.

Proposals.

Legal Notices.

Auctioneers.

Agents Wanted.

Hotels.

Resorts.

Steamboats.